

New World Wheat Pact For Study At Rome Meet

By HAROLD MORRISON
LONDON (CP)—The International Wheat Council announced today a world conference will be opened in Rome July 12 to negotiate a new international wheat agreement to replace the current pact which expires July 31.

A spokesman for the Canadian delegation at the two-day council meeting said he is satisfied the new conference will bring into effect the "understandings" reached at the Kennedy round of bargaining to boost the minimum-maximum range of wheat prices and to launch the new food aid plan for underdeveloped countries. The council said the Rome meeting will be held in co-operation with the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development and will be open to all members of the UN and its special agencies.

While the council did not spell out details of the new conference, the Canadian spokesman estimated the meeting will last about one month and likely will lead to a new agreement that might be brought into legal operation by Jan. 1, 1968.

LEAVES FREE PERIOD
That would leave a period between July 31 and Jan. 1 without an agreement of any kind for the first time in 18 years. However, the experts believe that if the Rome meeting is successful, member countries would feel obliged to adhere to the spirit of the arrangements made until such time as the new pact goes into effect.

"We anticipate there will be no instability in the world wheat market," the Canadian official said. At the Kennedy round of bargaining at Geneva, some 50 countries agreed to initiate a big reduction in tariffs.

At the same time, major wheat exporters and importers pledged to support a higher range of prices and to establish a pool of grain amounting to 500,000-600,000 bushels over a three-year period. Canada will pay for 11 per cent of the pool. The United States will finance about 42 per cent.

WOULD RAISE PRICES
Floor and ceiling prices in a new pact would be raised by roughly 20 (U.S.) cents a bushel from the present minimum of $1.62½ and maximum of $2.02½ a bushel, basis No. 1 northern at the Lakehead.

Those who initiated the Kennedy round wheat "understanding" were Canada, U.S., Australia, Argentina, Britain, Japan, the European Economic Community, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland and Finland.

The Soviet Union was not a party to the arrangements and the Rome meeting appears to be partly designed to allow the Russians as well as some other countries to join the new pact. China is not a member of the UN and is unlikely to be invited to Rome.

Canadian delegates at the two-day council meeting included Commissioner Douglas T. Treleaven of the Canadian Wheat Board and M. G. Clark, head of the trade department's commodities office.

Emergency Power Crews Go To Work In P.Q. Strike

MONTREAL (CP)—Emergency power crews have overcome about 20 electrical blackouts in the Montreal area after 5,000 Hydro Quebec workers went on strike in four regions of the province.

Premier Daniel Johnson served notice Tuesday night in Quebec City that his government would intervene in any general strike against the publicly-owned utility which threatened public security.

Spokesmen for the Canadian Union of Public Employees said all 8,100 Hydro workers would go off their jobs in three or four days if no agreement is reached on the terms of a new contract. The strike, designed to press demands for better working conditions and wages, replaces the rotating or staggered-area walkouts which have been held in various regions of the province since May 8. It began Monday night.

The last time the Johnson government intervened in a strike in the public sector was in February when Roman Catholic teachers in several Quebec centres were ordered back to work by legislation.

LACKED EFFECTIVENESS
Union officials said in Montreal the formerly-used system of rotating strikes, each lasting 24 hours in one or two Quebec regions, had not proved as effective as originally planned and a more widespread strike was necessary to press their demands.

The initial strike affected workers on Montreal Island, Quebec City, the Laurentians and the north shore of the St. Lawrence River.

The strike began a few hours after a majority of the Hydro workers voted to reject a management settlement offer designed to end the rotating strikes.

Involved were office workers, technical personnel and employees described as basic workers. Seniority has been a major factor at stake in the dispute. The last contract between the union and the utility expired Dec. 31.

Hydro's 4,500 hourly-rated workers have been seeking a $1.11 hourly wage increase in a two-year contract. Their average hourly rate before the strike was $2.50.

The office workers were seeking a 23-per-cent increase in their current average weekly earnings of $91. About 400 technicians have asked for a $13 increase in their weekly wages of $122.50 in the first year and a $6.50 raise in the second year.

HABITAT WILL SPREAD

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Vancouver architect predicts the Canadian landscape will be dotted with structures similar to the avant-garde Habitat 67 in 20 years time. Mrs. Cornelia Oberlander, a landscape architect, said members of her profession will see the obvious advantages of Habitat-like structures in preventing urban sprawl.

Overhaul Of Constitution 'Will Be Needed By 1970'

Canada's constitution needs to be overhauled to meet the problems of the 1970's and a national Confederation conference should be held to find the way to do it, David Fulton said in Toronto. He said during a Toronto visit as part of his campaign to win the Progressive Conservative leadership, that federal-provincial action on the constitution must involve a fresh start. It would evolve a formula to make it possible to amend the constitution of Canada. "We came within an ace of success six years ago. I'm not saying we should revive that formula because we must keep with the times," he said.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker asked for an assurance Tuesday that retiring Justice Leo Landreville will not reap the "bountiful harvest" of a pension of $18,666. Justice Minister Trudeau replied he would give no such assurance. Mr. Diefenbaker asked in Commons whether the judge had filed a certificate of ill health in a bid to obtain a pension. The minister said he knew of no application for a pension for health reasons.

The Detroit policemen's union and the civic administration reached an agreement Tuesday night aimed at ending a week-long slowdown by police officers. Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh and Carl Farrell, president of the Detroit Police Officers Association, announced in a joint statement that the association would urge its members to return to work on a full-time basis immediately.

The president of the Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. said in Chilliwack the new Bank of British Columbia will help build a strong local financial community for the province. John M. McMahon, a member of the bank's board, was speaking to the local chamber of commerce. "It is our conviction that it will be very difficult to attract capital to expand and build new secondary industries essential to B.C.'s continued expansion until we have a strong financial community here," Most of the decisions about how the savings of B.C. residents are invested are made outside the province "by people who live in an atmosphere that is remote from that in B.C."

Overtime Blanket 'Grows Old'

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Province says the British Columbia government's overtime blanket ban is a thing of the past.

Vancouver's morning newspaper says in an article today the Labor Relations Board is quietly renewing overtime permits that expire this month. The article says construction consortiums on B.C. Hydro projects will submit applications to schedule overtime, a number of applications from other companies have already gone through and there is no doubt the Hydro projects will receive similar permission.

Once this happens, the paper says, any hope of ever imposing a blanket ban on overtime will have gone.

It says an acute shortage of skilled men in the construction industry and short labor supply has made the ban impossible.

The ban was imposed late last year, making it impossible to schedule overtime without a government permit. The government later issued permits for B.C. Hydro work on the Columbia and Peace River projects. The article says the overwhelming view of government business and union officials now is that overtime will not be eliminated in B.C. for a long time, and that the approach now is to control it more strictly.

Sea Lamprey Being Beaten

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A Canadian Fishery expert said Tuesday Canada and the United States are winning a war against the sea lamprey in the Great Lakes.

A. L. Pritchard of Ottawa, chairman of the Great Lakes Fishery Commission, said lampreys have been reduced as much as 85 per cent in the treated lakes and that in some areas the lake trout was about as abundant as they were before the lampreys invaded the Great Lakes.

Pritchard told the commission the control program is continuing in Lake Superior and Lake Michigan is advancing well in Lake Huron and will be extended to Lake Ontario by 1970 "with a modest increase in financial support."

The commission is comprised of three Canadian and three U.S. representatives who act as advisers to their governments. The commission has spent almost $12,000,000 for lamprey control and more than $1,600,000 for research since a chemical eradication program started 10 years ago.

TODAY'S STOCK QUOTATIONS

TORONTO (CP)—Scurry-Rainbow continued its torrid pace in light morning trading today on the Toronto Stock Exchange as investors rushed to get in on the company's announced mineral find. The stock, which jumped 4½ Tuesday, added 1½ at 36½ on 18,011 shares, after touching 1867 high of 37½. Three weeks ago the stock was at 21½. The company announced Tuesday it had encountered nickel, copper and cobalt on its property in northeastern Saskatchewan. Trading in the stock was halted Friday at the request of the company until information of the Saskatchewan find could be provided. Details were announced Monday but the exchange withheld trading until Tuesday to give the financial community time to digest the news.

City Will Swing In Summer '67

The summer season is shaping up as a busy one for tourists and residents in the Kelowna area.

A list of events for July and August, issued by the Kelowna Parks and Recreation Commission, is indicative of the summer fun available.

Among regular activities are supervised playground sessions at both Sutherland and Strathcona Parks. The activity periods run from 9 a.m. to noon from Monday to Friday, beginning July 5.

The Recreation Park is busy every night, with either Little League, Pony or Babe Ruth baseball. Senior B men's fast-ball under the lights is also available at King's Stadium.

Saturday nights are reserved for seniors' men's baseball at Elks' Stadium.

The Kelowna Aquatic Pool has a daily program beginning at 8 a.m. and ending at 9 p.m. every weekday, starting July 1.

The Kelowna Swim Team practices every morning from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m., followed by the Red Cross water safety program and synchronized swimming practice until 11 a.m.

The swim team practices again from noon until 1 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. Public swimming lasts from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

Four 10-day sessions for the beginners swimming program will move into the public swimming period from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. The courses last from July 3 to 14, 17 to 28, 31 to Aug. 11 and 14 to 25.

Adult swimming classes go from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. every Wednesday.

The Aquacades, a one-hour stage and water show, return to the Aquatic Pool July 4. The shows begin at 7:30 p.m. every Tuesday throughout the summer.

Competitive diving classes also inhabit the pool from noon until 1 p.m. every weekday.

For those less inclined to water sports there is cricket at the City Park Oval every alternate Sunday. The matches start earlier this month.

The Kelowna Golf and Country Club will host at least three major events in July and August. The highlight of the year's golfing season rolls around July 6, with the Ogopogo Open Golf Tournament. The three-day event is expected to attract some of the best professional and amateur golfers in the province.

The Zone 3 Open Golf Tournament begins July 30 and the Kelowna Closed Golf Tournament August 27.

Okanagan Lake will be the scene of the Western Canadian Enterprise championships in sailing July 8 and 9 and also of the Kelowna Yacht Club Invitational Regatta Sept. 2 and 3.

The Interior Track and Field and B.C. Age Group championships take place Aug. 4 and 5 at the City Park Oval, followed Aug. 6 by the Kelowna Junior Regatta at the Aquatic.

The highlight of Kelowna's summer season comes into the spotlight during the middle weeks of August.

The 61st Kelowna International Regatta, Canada's largest water show, begins its four-day stand Aug. 9.

On Aug. 16, the stillness of Okanagan Lake will be shattered with the return of the unlimited hydroplane races. Many of the boats which raced here a year ago for the British Columbia Cup are expected to return.

Students who didn't fare as well as expected in year-end examinations this year don't need to worry about being left out of summer activities; the Kelowna Secondary School will run a summer school from July 3 to 29.

That still leaves August open. Four-page brochures, outlining the summer events, have been placed throughout the city by the Parks and Recreation Commission.

Five Heading For Vernon

A resolution to exempt municipalities from paying federal sales tax will be presented to the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association meeting in Vernon Thursday by the City of Kelowna.

The city seeks a complete exemption from the tax rather than the limited exclusion now in effect for purchases by a municipality. The city council has been told such an exemption could save Kelowna some $100,000 annually.

Kelowna delegates attending the meeting will be Ald. J. W. Bedford, Ald. L. A. N. Potterton and Ald. W. T. L. Roadhouse. Building inspector, William Conn and city assessor, Jim Markie, may also attend.

Let Them Off Early

The city council and the Kelowna Centenary Celebrations Committee have made an appeal to employers who have employees taking part in Monday's Centenary Week parade.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson, on behalf of the two groups, has asked employers to let their workers off at 4 p.m. Monday if they are parade participants, so they can change and make other final arrangements before the 6:30 p.m. starting time.

The parade is expected to be one of the biggest in Kelowna's history and the council and centenary celebrations committee hope employers will contribute to the event's success by cooperating.

WHAT'S ON IN TOWN

- Boys Club (346 Lawrence) 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. — Activities for boys aged 8 to 18.
- Museum (Queensway) 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. — Museum tours.
- Library (Queensway) 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. — Art exhibition.
- Bijou Theatre (Bertram Street) 8 p.m. — Kelowna Little Theatre classes.

NO, IT'S NOT A practice run for next week's Centennial Week parade. If you can remember back to 1905 you will recognize Bernard Avenue, looking east toward Black Knight Mountain, from a point not far from Okanagan Lake. The photograph is only one of many which will be displayed at the Parks and Recreation Commission office on Mill Street next week. Prominent in this view are the old Palace Hotel on the left and on the right the Clarion, which became the Kelowna Courier in 1906. See story below.

Historical Exhibit Part of Big Week

An exhibit of historical photographs, slides, paintings and etchings will be on display Tuesday to Friday next week at the Parks and Recreation Commission office on Mill Street.

H. V. Webb New President Of Kelowna's Rotary Club

H. V. Webb was installed as president of the Kelowna Rotary Club at the annual installation dinner Tuesday, attended by 147 people.

He replaces Dr. C. B. Holmes, installing officer was district governor Dr. Harold Henderson.

In his report of the year's activities, Dr. Holmes said the club's main project was the beach on Lakeshore Road which was levelled, parking spaces made and trees planted.

Police Seek Calgary Girl

Kelowna RCMP are trying to locate a 14-year-old Calgary girl who may be in this area.

Darlene Giffen is five-foot-one-inch tall, weighs 115 pounds and has a dark complexion. She favors orange-colored clothing.

Her father is attempting to trace her movements and anyone having information is asked to contact the RCMP.

ON THE CORNER...

An invitation to take a visual trip through the history of the Okanagan has been extended to tourists and residents in the Kelowna area. The invitation, referring to the Kelowna Museum, was issued by the Kelowna Centenary Celebrations Committee for the city's Centennial Week, beginning Sunday. The museum is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

A. K. Cowen, well-known for his contributions to the field of social services for handicapped children in the Okanagan, is assuming a higher position with the Rehabilitation Foundation of B.C. in Vancouver. Mr. Cowen has been named director of public relations and assistant to the executive director. He will leave with his family July 1 for Vancouver.

Sharon McKinley, who recently shared a $2,000 second prize in a national Jeunesmus Musicales competition in Vancouver, will use her prize money to help pay for a new cello. She intends to spend the summer studying in California, says her father, Garfield McKinley.

The Kelowna Rotary Club Tuesday presented W. L. B. Hawker, retiring principal of the Dr. Knox Secondary School, with a farewell gift. A Rotarian, he was recently appointed a district superintendent of schools.

The Westbank and District Chamber of Commerce will hold its general meeting Saturday in the Westbank Yacht Club from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. D. G. Pratt, manager of Inland Natural Gas, will discuss the subject of natural gas for the Westbank area. President Edward F. M. Hill says all residents of the area are welcome to attend.

The new rector of St. Michael and All Angels' Anglican Church in Kelowna is Rev. Fraser Berry of St. Luke's Church in Winnipeg. Mr. Berry is due in Kelowna about September 15. Rev. K. B. Howes, who came here from Golden June 15, is in charge in the interim.

Marker buoys have been placed in the water off the Hot Sands Beach in the City Park. The buoys are not only to keep boat

A. W. Gray's collection of historical photographs of the Kelowna area will be displayed, bringing back memories of bygone days for long-time residents, as part of Kelowna's Centennial Week celebrations.

A history of the Kelowna area from the time of the Fur Brigade Trail, commencing in 1811, and the growth of the area to the time of the First World War will be shown on a series of slides, with commentary by Mrs. T. B. Upton.

Mrs. E. C. Crichton, a pioneer Kelowna resident, came from Hay, Wales, to visit her two sons, A. H. and B. E. Crichton, the first time in 1898. Each time she did several paintings depicting the countryside at that time. These will be on view during the exhibit.

Mrs. Crichton made several bequests to the St. Michael and All Angels' church in Kelowna and to the St. Andrew's church in Okanagan Mission.

Ernest Harry Emmens, more commonly known as "Frascati" has left a record of some of the larger homes in Kelowna and district, including the R. S. Stubbs, H. C. Mallam, H. C. S. Collett, and B. E. Crichton homes in Okanagan Mission; the A. H. Crichton home in Bonville; the C. R. Bull home on the Belgo; the P. B. Willis and Frank Buckland homes in Kelowna; the first Kelowna club; a cottage on Burne Avenue and a picturesque section of road several miles south of Okanagan Mission.

These paintings of prime historical interest will be featured at the exhibit.

Mrs. Gwen Lamont will have her paintings of the Bellevue Hotel, Gulsachan, and a view from Short's Point on display.

Fanny G. Ogden's painting of the Dr. B. F. Boyce home and a painting by Miss Dart of a home in East Kelowna will be included in the exhibits.

A series of photographs by G. H. E. Hudson will show early homes, orchards, roads, boats and a comprehensive record of Kelowna in the early 1900s. Mr. Hudson arrived in Kelowna in 1906, the first resident photographer in the Okanagan. He left in 1917 to become a Canadian war photographer and died in England in 1958.

Mary Bull will have her painting of the old Okanagan Mission store on display and paintings and etchings done by C. W. Holaday, and Miss F. Franklin will be shown.

Pettigrew Rites Today

The funeral service was held at 2 p.m. today for former Kelowna mayor James David Pettigrew, 81, of 1901 Abbott St., who died Sunday.

Rev. E. H. Birdsall officiated at the service held in the First United Church. Burial was in the Kelowna cemetery.

Active pallbearers were Ald. J. W. Bedford, representing the City of Kelowna; former mayor W. B. Hughes-Games and four members of the Kelowna Fire Brigade, fire chief Charles Pettigrew, assistant fire chief J. E. Roberts and firemen Fred Geringer and H. C. Locke.

Honorary pallbearers were Dr. W. J. Knox, Mayor R. F. Parkinson, Ald. W. T. L. Roadhouse, and former fire chief, Fred Gore.

Showers...

Cloudy skies with isolated thundershowers are forecast for the Okanagan today and Thursday. Light winds and slightly cooler temperatures are also expected.

Tips For Happier Living Related To Parents' Group

Only you can make your life a happy and satisfying one, Mrs. Delcie Hill told members attending a Parents' Without Partners meeting Tuesday.

Mrs. Hill is a public health nurse with the Okanagan Mental Health Centre in Kelowna.

The Parents Without Partners Club, formed this year, is for single parents, who through death, divorce or separation, are obliged to raise a family alone.

She urged members to look at themselves objectively, their past, present and future, to "settle the past, deal with the present and plan for the future."

Mrs. Hill said members should benefit from mistakes made in the past. "The only bad mistake is one that is committed twice."

She said people must learn to accept situations as they exist in the present, but to recognize one has some influence over what happens.

'Never Had Much Chance' Says Magistrate About Youth

A 19-year-old youth from Montreal was sentenced in magistrate's court today to 18 months definite and 12 months indeterminate on a charge of breaking, entering and theft of the Okanagan Academy, Rutland.

Magistrate D. M. White said Paul Francis Clement had never had much of a chance, being in and out of penitentiaries since he was 13, "either through his own stupidity or lack of good counselling."

He said he would recommend the time be served in the Haney Correctional Institution.

RCMP Probe Two Thefts

Two thefts were reported to police Tuesday, a watch from the dressing room at the Kelowna Aquatic poolside building and a break-in of a forest lookout cabin.

Mrs. Hilda Hall, 1062 Leon Ave., told police at 5:10 p.m., a watch was stolen from her daughter's clothing in the dressing room, while she was swimming in the Ogopogo pool. The watch is valued at $50.

The break-in of the Forest Service cabin at Terrace Mountain, northwest of Kelowna, occurred between Oct. 1, 1966 and June 1, 1967. Missing are a lantern with the initials "F.S." on the bottom, a pack board, a Swede saw, army cot and alarm clock.

Damage was estimated at less than $100 in a car-truck collision Tuesday on Pleasant Street at 2:30 p.m. Drivers were Ronald A. Provost, Kelowna and Thomas A. Latty, Vancouver. There were no injuries.

City Council News Briefs

The colorful ceremonial retreat parades, to be held nightly at the city hall during next week's centennial celebrations, will begin Tuesday instead of parade being held Monday night. Monday, due to the centennial The city council will attend the Tuesday retreat.

John Erb, the provincial coordinator of civil defence activities, will be in Kelowna Sunday and Monday, Ald. L. A. N. Petterson told the council. Mr. Erb will meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday with several civic officials.

The three Okanagan mayors will go to Vancouver June 28 to submit a brief to a Public Utilities hearing in connection with an Inland Natural Gas Co. bid to construct a southern pipeline to serve as an alternate to the northern system.

TRUCK FOR CARS HELPS PATIENTS

The letters stand for the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society and Miss Laverne Brown operates the mobile therapy unit, giving assistance to disabled people in their homes. The van, a relatively new idea in the field of medicine, is equipped with special tools and upwards to 100 can be done right in the patient's home, Miss Brown, a physiotherapist and occupational therapist, operates under doctor's prescriptions. The van was donated May 4 in Penticton by the Associated Canadian Travellers at the CARS regional meeting.

College Policy Needs Complete Revamping

Wilf Bennett, education writer for the Vancouver Province, discussed the problems of regional colleges in that paper this week. As the subject is of major interest in this area, the writer's comments will be of interest to our readers. Mr. Bennett wrote as follows:

Has B.C.'s ambitious plan for a network of two-year regional colleges collapsed before it started?

Five years ago the Macdonald Report on Higher Education recommended such a network of junior colleges in key communities.

Today only two two-year colleges are operating—Selkirk College at Castlegar and Vancouver City College, which is essentially an extension of Vancouver's successful adult education program and not really a regional college.

Nine others have been suggested, but these are all either stymied by lack of provincial permission for a college referendum, or are having difficulty getting the required co-operative backing of all participating school boards.

Most conspicuous stymie is that of the stillborn Okanagan Community College, which has had a full-time principal and a good site over a year but can't get off the ground because of differences of opinion between school districts on taxation basis and site.

Okanagan's principal, Norman Walker, who has been intimately connected with the situation the past year, is worried that the same pattern seems to be developing in other areas planning community colleges.

He is right. In the referendum vote in the Prince George area last week, one district, Quesnel, voted the college proposal down by 818 to 216 votes, and Quesnel's mayor complains that only a 50 per cent over-all vote is needed throughout the area.

In the next regional college referendum, for Nanaimo and the Upper Island, slated for September, both the Courtenay Regional College Advisory Committee and the Courtenay Electors' Association have refused to support the college vote. The electors' group says it will vigorously oppose its passage. Basic disagreement in Courtenay, as in Quesnel, is that the proposed site is too far away.

Walker feels the present basis of setting up a B.C. community college is untenable and almost impossible to bring to fruition.

Neither a plebiscite nor a referendum for a college can be held without permission from the provincial government but, until these votes are held and carried, the establishment of a college cannot be guaranteed.

Since the B.C. plan has community colleges run by a group of school boards, this puts the local college supporters in the position of selling the idea to a dozen or so school districts, without knowing exactly what they are selling. The site, the costs, and even the type of courses to be given cannot be determined until the voters all agree on going ahead.

This is further complicated by the fact that practically nobody in B.C. has had any experience with two-year colleges, so they do not know exactly what they are selling. Where, for example, do you draw the line between courses given in a community college, a provincial vocational school and the two-year B.C. Institute of Technology?

In actual practice, members of the provisional college committee and some school trustees must get out and sell the college idea, involving an increase in taxes, to wary taxpayers.

Alternatively, they can hire a public relations firm to go in and try to sell the proposition. But, while big city groups are now pretty well accustomed to the value of selling any proposal with the help of sincerely dressed public relations boys and cocktail parties, this is not as effective yet in smaller communities. It may even work in reverse with some taxpayers, being criticized as a wrong expenditure of public money.

A basic weakness in the whole college program seems to be the provincial government's original concept of having the new junior colleges built and operated by existing school boards. The type of bickering, differences and tax worries which arise have already been well demonstrated in many areas.

Even in the one successfully organized community college, Selkirk, built by six school boards in the West Kootenay area, the very capable founding principal, Gordon Campbell, has resigned with the parting statement that community colleges are doomed as long as they remain under school board control.

Selkirk College Council has 16 members representing the six school districts. Campbell says this council's lack of understanding and its failure to give the college administration a free hand was the underlying factor in the resignations of himself and four other senior officials this spring.

Through school board control, Selkirk is becoming merely an upward extension of high school emphasizing preparation for university. Campbell contends.

(In the U.S., some junior colleges have been criticized as "service stations on the route to university.")

A strong opponent of school board control of junior colleges is Dr. Edward K. Erickson, principal of Seattle Community College, who has had considerable experience in the field.

Erickson, who led a seminar on two-year colleges at Vancouver City College here last month, says school boards have plenty of work and problems without taking on the added responsibility for junior colleges.

The state of Washington, which has 20 successfully operating junior colleges, has placed each of them under an independent five-man board, completely distinct from school boards.

They also are under the jurisdiction of a seven-man State Board for Community Colleges.

(In B.C., the provincial Higher Education Academic Board, under Dean S. N. F. Chant, is empowered to keep an academic eye on the status of two-year colleges, as well as universities.)

(Incidentally, Seattle Community College, only a year old, has 13,500 students and is planning two new $18 million campuses, at Northgate and Alki, by 1970.)

Other junior colleges in the lower Mainland area, including those on the North Shore, Surrey and Coquitlam, seem to be bogged down awaiting definition of an over-all Lower Mainland multi-campus program by the provincial government.

It should be said, in fairness, that the B.C. School Trustees Association and many individual boards have taken an active and enlightened lead in trying to get regional colleges started in B.C.

A regional college organization, comprising representatives of 11 interested B.C. regions, has been formed under the aegis of the BCSTA, with North Vancouver School Trustee Peter Jones, chairman of the North Shore Community College Council, as chairman.

When the Macdonald report came out five years ago, some criticism was levelled at it on the grounds that a community getting a four-year college has all costs paid by the province, while a community getting a two-year college had to raise part of the cost from local taxation. Some people charged discrimination.

Macdonald's contention, and that of the provincial government and its higher education finance board, is that if the community is to own and operate a two-year college it should bear at least some small share of the financial responsibility. Otherwise it becomes just one more provincial institution, serving the whole province. And it may get careless of costs.

But this viewpoint is getting harder and harder to sell as rising school costs worry taxpayers and municipal councils. They don't like the idea of adding some junior college charges to their home taxes, too.

Junior colleges, with two-year programs involving some academic, some technical and some semi-professional courses, can fill a real need in today's educational set-up.

But the developing experience in B.C. and the actual experience in Washington and other parts of the U.S. (where there are now 1,000 junior colleges) seem to prove that regional colleges don't work most efficiently and realistically under the control of school boards.

B.C. needs a revision of its community college legislation, permitting independent regional college boards and a wider basis of financing.

Bank Of B.C. President Plans To Be Tough Chief

VANCOUVER (CP) — The young president of the new Bank of British Columbia doesn't mince words or waste time.

"We'll be going in with our coats off," says 39-year-old Frank Trebell. To meet the competition of the older established chartered banks of Canada, he says, his own bank will have to be tough.

"It has to be a straight-forward, tough, imaginative young organization."

"We'll be going in with fresh minds. No built-in biases, no built-in administrative and management problems."

Mr. Trebell, a Toronto native who spent most of his childhood in Picton, Ont., was named temporary president of the B.C. bank, the 10th federally-chartered institution.

The appointment is only for about a year, but it is understood Mr. Trebell is among the favorites to be considered when the bank names its permanent executives.

Mr. Trebell, on loan from Yorkshire Financial Corp. of Vancouver to organize the bank, admits he's youthful by the yardstick of bank presidents.

"But then I have been 20 years younger for most of my jobs than people expected."

He left home in Picton in his teens to go to Victoria where he attended Royal Roads Military College. He left the college in 1949 as the top naval cadet and returned to start a career in Picton.

He married his childhood sweetheart, then bought a hotel. "I was too young to hold a liquor licence and it was held in someone else's name."

Then he moved to Montreal to get business experience. He started as an office boy for Greenshields Inc., an investment dealer, and by the time he was 26 was named manager of the Toronto branch. Six years later he was a director, a vice-president and the general manager.

About two years ago he got itchy feet, left Greenshields and came to British Columbia without prospects of a job.

He talked Power Corp. of Montreal into purchasing Yorkshire from its English owners, with Mr. Trebell buying 17 per ownership and holding down the top management job.

In two years Yorkshire doubled assets under administration to $150,000,000.

How did he get involved in the Bank of B.C.?

"At one of our meetings at Yorkshire I was talking about this need (for a B.C. bank) and the group said that if I felt that strongly why didn't I offer my services. It may sound corny but that's the way it was."

He went to Einar Gunderson, chairman of the provisional board of directors of the bank, and told him what he thought should be done. Two weeks later Mr. Trebell was hired as chairman of the bank's advisory committee.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

June 21, 1967 . . .

The surrendered German fleet was scuttled in Scapa Flow, Scotland, 48 years ago today—in 1919—in a last gesture of defiance. The fleet of 11 battleships, five battlecruisers, eight light cruisers and a number of destroyers was at anchor at the war base of the British grand fleet when the German crews opened the sea-cocks and the ships went down. Only four ships stayed afloat, the battleship Baden and three light cruisers. The action proved expensive for Germany which had to surrender large quantities of dockyard equipment in place of the scuttled warships.

First World War
Fifty years ago today—in 1917—the French advanced northeast of Monte Carrière in Champagne: a royal warrant was issued instituting the Order of the British Empire and the Order of Companions of Honor.

Second World War
Twenty-five years ago today—in 1942—German forces captured Tobruk. Germans drove the Russians from positions on the south side of Sevastopol defenses, the Oregon coast was shelled by a submarine.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Can't Be Specific About This Trouble

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told I have vasculitis. What is it and how is it treated?—J.S.
Vasculitis is an inflammatory condition of the blood vessels, and the usual result is a sore, red area in the involved part of the body.

Naturally the inflammation may result from varied causes. Infections may be involved—typhoid or pneumonia germs, for instance, or viruses. Allergies and sensitivity to certain drugs, the sulfas sometimes being the offender, may be involved. Sometimes vasculitis develops in connection with the collagen diseases.

With such various possibilities to consider, it may be simple to diagnose the condition as vasculitis but not so easy to track down the exact cause. It is not unusual to require a stay in the hospital on the cause, and may consist of avoiding the irritant once it is identified.

Sorry I can't be more specific but this is one of the ailments which just doesn't lend itself to a simple answer.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any difference between mental deficiency and being mentally ill? Is there any inexpensive or free help for mental defectives?—MRS. V.I.D.

There's a world of difference between mental deficiency and mental illness. Mental deficiency means that the brain simply does not operate at full efficiency—mental retardation from heredity, illness or injury. Mental illness, however, can and sometimes does affect even people of very superior intelligence. It is an emotional illness. The ill person does not react normally to life and society. With proper treatment, many of the mentally ill recover.

Most states provide some help for mental defectives, and it depends on the degree of deficiency. For the severely retarded, state-operated homes are provided.

Dear Dr. Molner: Years ago I had syphilis and was treated by injections. Blood tests are always negative. Does that mean that I am completely cured?—WORRIED

Yes. So next time sign yourself "Not Worried."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

PARKING PROBLEM

Sir: In your issue of June 6, 1967, I understand you printed certain parts of my letter to Mayor Parkinson, wherein I objected to the manner in which the traffic laws were enforced during the Knox Mountain Hill Climb. After receiving a most courteous reply from Mayor Parkinson, I had intended to let the matter remain as it was.

However, it seems the Kelowna Traffic Department was not of the same mind. I am beginning to suspect that, within this department, the right hand does not know what the left hand is doing.

You might be interested to know that my husband and I have just received a form letter from the city comptroller's office. This letter is termed a "second notice" of our parking violation, the fine for which is to be paid by June 22 if we are to avoid a summons.

We went to the RCMP station on May 21 to ransom our car, we paid the sum specified by the officer as the amount we owed. We naturally assumed this was all-inclusive. It would seem, however, that Kelowna's traffic fines are levied by installments. Perhaps you could give us some idea as to what further charges we may expect. We will no doubt have to pay this fine, unjust though it is, since my husband cannot afford to lose time off work, to say nothing of making a 600-mile round trip, in order to appear in court.

However, we intend to advise the principal Lower Mainland news media of this situation which seems to us a festering sore.

Yours truly,
MRS. MARGARET HAEVERMAN

BEACHES UNCLEAN

Sir: I have today written a letter to the mayor and council of the City of Kelowna, complaining about the generally unclean conditions of the city's public beaches and suggesting that they consider the purchase of a beach-cleaning machine so that our beaches will be maintained in the same attractive condition as those in Penticton. In my opinion, it is unbelievable that our beaches and sand can become so dirty when one considers that tourism is a major industry here.

As I pointed out in my letter to the mayor and council, I realize that the cost of such a machine would be quite high, but I believe the expenditure is justified by the fact that the public beaches are Kelowna's major attractions for both residents and visitors alike during the summer months.

I would appreciate any comments you, or the paper's readers, may have concerning the foregoing.

Yours truly,
MRS. B. WALLS.

PROTECT BEARS!

Sir: Now that the B.C. government is determined to make sure the province's wildlife population is to remain in perpetuity and a new Wildlife Act is to be drawn up, I do hope the bears will get a better deal.

Driving through the Kootenay the other day we stopped to take a picture of a young bear which emerged from the dark and snow-covered forest floor and was feeding on some grass along the road in the bright sun.

Soon after, a car stopped and two men with rifles got out. I asked why they wanted to kill it. One replied he wanted a rug and added forcefully that he had a licence.

I tried to dissuade them, but they went after it just the same. He was right, of course, for there is an open season until June.

This is certainly hard on the bears; they come out of their caves with shaggy hides and poor eyesight and cubs are left alone to die a miserable death when their mothers are shot.

Anyhow, I hope that the loud shouting I provoked for the trigger-happy couple scared the bear away good and true!

CANADA'S STORY

Winnipeg Lives Lost On 'Bloody Saturday'

By BOB BOWMAN

Today there is a tendency on the part of many people to see a group of Communists behind every strike. In 1919 the bug-bears were called "Bolsheviks," usually depicted as Russian revolutionaries with heavy accents, thick black beards, and dark glasses.

After the First World War, labor unions in Canada were not nearly as strong as they are today, but they joined in one of the worst strikes in Canadian history in Winnipeg beginning May 1, 1919. The metals trade workers walked out when they could not get a 44-hour week and 85 cents an hour. Within a week 52 other unions joined them in sympathy strikes, and on May 13 the Trades and Labor Council called a general strike. Winnipeg, then Canada's third largest city, was paralyzed. Practically all the public services were stopped, and even the policemen would have gone on strike if the Strike Committee had not asked them to stay on their jobs.

It was the citizens of Winnipeg, other than the strikers, who got essential services restored although it took weeks. A Citizens Committee was formed and 1,000 volunteers took over the operation of public utilities. Gradually their number grew to 10,000 men and women. The mayor issued a proclamation in which he said "the constituted authorities are determined to stamp out the Bolshevik or Red element in Winnipeg."

On June 17 a special force of 50 North West Mounted Police and 500 special police rounded up the strike leaders in theatrical raids and took them to Stony Mountain penitentiary. This led to "Bloody Saturday" on June 21 when police attacked a mob protesting the arrests. There was fighting for six hours during which two men were killed, and many others were sent to the hospital.

The strike ended the following week but the anti-climax came when the leaders were put on trial. It was found that there was no evidence against five so-called "Bolsheviks" but charges were laid against 10 outstanding Anglo-Saxon Winnipeg citizens—two church ministers among them. They included J. S. Woods, founder of the Socialist movement in Canada, who was recently chosen by a panel of experts as one of the most outstanding Canadians since Confederation. Another was A. A. Heaps, an alderman who became a respected member of Parliament. Bob Russell was sentenced to two years for seditious conspiracy, and five others received sentences from one year to six months. No action was taken against Woods although the charge against him was never dropped.

Canadian Doctors 'Unite' BMA Secretary Advises

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadian doctors should form a united front and arm themselves with the full range of public relations, parliamentary lobbying and expert negotiating weapons for impending medical care negotiations with governments, says the secretary of the British Medical Association.

Dr. Derek Stevenson, BMA secretary since 1958, advised Canadian doctors never to deprive the public of services through a strike but to retain their right to refuse to operate under any medical care scheme that endangers the profession's principles.

"The first essential is a strong association which can be seen to speak for a united profession," he told the Canadian Medical Association's conference on medical insurance and medical manpower.

"The second essential is to initiate and maintain the closest links with those who control public and parliamentary opinions. This includes the modern mass media of television and radio."

"The third essential is to gather the best possible team of advisers in preparation of the case."

The negotiating team leaders should be doctors but the members should include a lawyer, accountant, statistician and economist, he said.

Dr. Stevenson's advice came as provincial medical associations were preparing to negotiate or were conducting negotiations with provincial governments which intend to participate in the federal medical care insurance program starting July 1, 1968.

A text of his address to the CMA conference was released to the press before delivery. The CMA last week decided to set up a special department of collective negotiation to help provincial medical groups become more expert in negotiating with governments.

The CMA also decided to shift its national headquarters from Toronto to Ottawa, where contact with federal legislators would be easier.

While Dr. Stevenson offered the doctors advice on impending negotiations, a Canadian physician expressed an anxiety over the attitude of the Ontario Medical Association, which has decided as a matter of policy to deal only with patients and not with the provincial government.

Dr. Frank Turnbull of Vancouver, who headed the CMA committee that recommended a department of collective negotiation, said it remains to be seen whether the Ontario Medical Association decision is workable.

"The doctors of Ontario have the strongest provincial medical association in Canada," he said. "Their leaders have influenced Canadian medico-political thought profoundly for generations."

"Today they are standing alone. Perhaps they are right. Their colleagues in other parts of Canada are anxiously watching their course."

In a lengthy document on negotiation submitted to the conference, Dr. Stevenson said that, after long negotiations, the doctors cannot operate under an existing state scheme it has the right to say so "and to make other arrangements."

"However great the intrusion of the state, medicine must remain a vocation. It has responsibilities which it cannot abrogate."

His words amounted to advice to opt out of practising under an unacceptable medical care program in certain circumstances. The federal medical insurance act permits doctors to practise outside the plan without their patients losing any of the insurance benefits involved in coverage.

PRESSURE URGED
Dr. Stevenson said all cabinet ministers are sensitive to public pressure and urged doctors to make skilled use of press and broadcasting to maintain pressure.

H-Bomb Test Was 'High'

TOKYO (Reuters)—A Japanese scientist said today China's hydrogen bomb may have been exploded in the stratosphere, possibly as high as 32 miles over the earth.

Comparing data on China's test Saturday with the record of U.S. high altitude tests, the scientist said there is some indication the explosion took place almost up to the ionosphere.

Tetsuo Kamata, assistant pro-

'New-Jobs-First' Call Fails In Cape Breton Mine Debate

OTTAWA (CP)—The opposition was defeated Tuesday night in an attempt to establish in legislation the principle that fresh job opportunities must be created before Cape Breton mines are closed down.

The government argued that this principle is built into the spirit of its Cape Breton Development Corp. bill.

However, New Democrats and Conservatives zeroed in on a sub-section that will require the Crown corporation to take all reasonable measures "to reduce as far as possible any unemployment or economic hardship that can be expected" from reduced coal production.

Ottawa and Halifax are to put $90,000,000 into the corporation to close down failing Cape Breton coal mines during the next 15 years and replace them with new industry.

The mines are owned by Dominion Steel and Coal Corp. subsidiaries.

Detailed study of the bill was resumed Tuesday after the Commons moved quickly through the 1967-68 spending estimates of the energy, mines and resources department.

The House turns to the health and welfare estimates today, with the Cape Breton bill to come up again at an unspecified date.

DEBATE PIPELINE

Debate on the energy estimates centred on the decision earlier in the day by the U.S. Federal Power Commission to permit a new west-coast gas pipeline to be built partly through the United States.

Government and Conservative spokesmen welcomed the decision but two NDP members from Northern Ontario, Murdo Martin (Timmins) and Arnold Peters (Timiskaming) attacked it as a sellout to the U.S. and called for another all-Canadian line.

In the Cape Breton debate, Conservative Gordon Churchill (Winnipeg South Centre) backed the strong NDP attack on the re-employment section.

He said the government has "written into the Cape Breton legislation the fact that there will be unemployment and economic hardship. This is a message of despondency."

David Lewis (NDP — York South) said the wording "emphasizes the kind of priorities Duceau itself has had." He suspected that corporation officials would be told to "follow the usual commercial criteria" in closing the mines.

A Lewis amendment, supported by Conservatives and Creditists, would have required the Crown corporation to take all reasonable measures "to provide alternative employment for employees of the corporation who may be laid off as a result" of mine closures.

AMENDMENT DEFEATED
The amendment would minimize the bill's good effects, said Parliament would have to "trust" corporation officials to carry out the spirit of the legislation.

Mr. Pepin, arguing that the Lewis amendment would minimize the bill's good effects, said Parliament would have to "trust" corporation officials to carry out the spirit of the legislation.

Robert Muir (PC — Cape Breton North and Victoria) supported the Lewis amendment and said that Mr. Pepin "may be a political scientist but he has a hell of a lot to learn about human nature."

An amendment by Robert McCleave (PC—Halifax) to allow the corporation to "open" new mines was passed without debate.

The prospect has been described by Mr. Pepin as unlikely, though there has been talk for several years of a new mine at Langan.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR BCSPCA VISITS KELOWNA

The Kelowna Branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals held a pot-luck supper recently at the residence of the president, Miss Joan Hamblin. The guest of honor was Commander F. J. Jones, executive

H. V. Acland, Mrs. Laura Dull, Mrs. Harvey, president Joan Hamblin, Mrs. S. McConnell, Mrs. H. L. Mann and honorary president Henry Tutt. The feminine members of the group are very busy these days planning the annual garden tea to be held in St. Andrew's Church Hall, Okanagan Mission and the adjoining grounds, kindly lent by Mr. and Mrs. John Surtees, June 28 at 2:30 p.m.

MR. AND MRS. E. G. BOWLES

Diamond Wedding Anniversary Celebrated By Kelowna Couple

Celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bowles, formerly of St. James, Man., were guests of honor at an Open House on June 12, which was held at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bowles, Laurier Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowles were married in London, England, in 1907. Mr. Bowles first came to Canada in 1908, returning the following year to London for his bride, the former Ethel May Garrard. They left shortly after the wedding for Canada.

In Canada they made their first home at Oak Lake, Man., later moving to Virden, Man., and a few years later they moved to St. James, Man., where Mr. Bowles was stationed with the Canadian Permanent Force (Army) until his retirement.

Mr. Bowles served with the City Imperial Volunteers of London, England during the South African War and on his return to London from South Africa he was granted the honor of the Freedom of the City of London.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowles have three sons, Jack of Winnipeg, Ted, New Westminster, and Bert of Kelowna, four grandchildren and one great-grandson.

The honored couple was presented with an album containing pictures of their life together through the years, from their granddaughter Barbara, and many greetings were received, from New Zealand, Germany, and England. Messages were also received from Her Majesty The Queen, the Prime Minister, and the Mayor of Kelowna.

Out of town guests attending included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bowles, Ted Bowles and Mrs. A. Kennedy of Calgary, formerly of St. James, Man.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowles have resided in Kelowna since 1964. Mr. Bowles will be 93 in September and Mrs. Bowles 87 in August are both enjoying fairly good health.

Jaycee Wives Are Special Guests At Kelowna Jaycettes Barbecue

The Kelowna Jaycettes held their final meeting before the summer recess on June 16, at the home of Mrs. M. White.

The incoming president, Mrs. R. Sharples, introduced the new executive, who are: Mrs. R. Bain, vice-president; Mrs. E. Loney, secretary; Mrs. J. W. ten, treasurer; and Mrs. M. White, director. Mrs. Sharples presented Mrs. R. Wightman with her past president's pin and 100 per cent attendance pins were presented to Mrs. R. Wightman, Mrs. D. Kinney, Mrs. R. Bain and Mrs. W. Wostrowski.

ROMANCE TRIUMPHS

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—They had tried to elope twice before, but their plans were always foiled.

This time they made it—all the way here from St. Petersburg, Fla. They had a rendezvous on the porch where they stole a quick kiss.

"I just wanted to see what kind of girl she was," he said. Until lunchtime, nobody at the Masonic home even knew they were gone.

"I just walked out on the porch, got behind her wheel chair and we were off," said the groom.

Cabbies and bus drivers helped them make their way to Georgia, and after a blood test and short wait J. P. Zeller, 87, and Florence Mary Anderson, 72, were wed.

ANN LANDERS

Insist Mother-In Law Visit You As A Guest

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's mother will be coming to visit next month on her annual "inspection tour". I have already called my doctor and asked him to reorder my migraine pills. For 12 years her visits have given me blinding headaches.

The first thing my mother-in-law does is go through my cupboards and medicine cabinet and throw out everything she decides I don't need. Then she refines the shelves. After that she rearranges the furniture and changes the pictures around. Then she checks my linen closet and tears up the sheets and pillowcases if they have a few little worn spots. Her favorite expression is, "Rags, should be used for rags."

Please don't suggest that my husband talk to her. He has refused. Thanks for your help.—MIGRAINE MILLIE

Dear Millie: Greet your mother-in-law with the announcement that from now on she is going to be a guest in your home and guests don't rearrange the furniture, clean the cupboards or tear up the linen. It's up to you to tell her, not your husband, since these matters are within the homemaker's province.

This is the only realistic solution, Millie, and if you don't follow through and take the advice it means you really do want to have those headaches.

Dear Ann Landers: A woman in our neighborhood calls the rescue squad at least once a month. They take her to the hospital, keep her for a day, then send her home because the doctors can find nothing wrong with her.

This woman seems to know exactly when her fainting spells are coming. She always manages to put in a phone call to the rescue squad just before she passes out. She has never broken a bone or gotten a bruise that anyone knows of.

When I was discussing this ridiculous phony with my sister-in-law recently my husband scolded me for not being more charitable. Why should I be charitable when I know this woman is faking? Please reply in the paper.—NO SYMPATHY FOR FREAKENDERS

Dear No Sympathy: Perhaps the doctors can find nothing physically wrong with the woman, but she is sick just the same. A person who would go to such extremes to get attention has a severe emotional problem which can be even more incapacitating than a physical illness. The woman needs compassion and understanding, not criticism.

Dear Ann Landers: Don't tell me I am cheap or petty. Just tell me what to do about two friends whose inveterate and skillful mooching are about to drive me nuts.

We three have known each other for years—went all the way through school together. Neither of these girls is so hot in the kitchen but it's because they don't try very hard. Their menus are unimaginative and they buy cheap cuts of meats to begin with.

Every time they have dinner at my place they ask if they can take the left-overs home. They go through the icebox and help themselves to everything in sight—even the butter. I hate to refuse when they tell me the dinner was so delicious they'd like the left overs for lunch tomorrow. Please think of a gentle reply which means "no".—RAIDED

Dear Raided: Tell them you thought the dinner was delicious, too, and the leftovers are going to be YOUR lunch for tomorrow. You'll only have to say it three or four times and they'll quit asking.

Confidential to Kooked Up: I'm not surprised. A girl who has been carrying such unbelievable emotional freight is lucky she's not in the Laughing Academy. Call the Salvation Army. They do a wonderful job for unwed mothers.

AROUND TOWN

After a short final meeting Monday evening the Junior Hospital Auxiliary concluded a very successful season with a friendship hour and dinner party at the Capri Motor Hotel attended by 53 members. Following the delicious dinner, the president, Mrs. Edward Lawrence, introduced the guests at the head table including six past presidents, Mrs. Jack Ewens '61; Mrs. Harold August '62; Mrs. George Holland '63; Mrs. Joyce Wilkinson '64; Mrs. Louis Rampone '65; and Mrs. Harold Pettman '66; Mrs. Joseph Simard, first vice-president; Mrs. John Warner, second vice-president; Mrs. R. G. Whillis, associate member; Mrs. James Tarves, secretary, and Mrs. M. J. Evans.

The six past president were then presented with exquisite little Hospital Auxiliary Past President Pins, and Mrs. Whillis, who was auxiliary treasurer for four years and liaison officer for the Volunteer Services for the past two years, was presented with a B.C. Hospital Auxiliary Pin. Mrs. Harold Henderson, past president '69, who was out of town, will receive her pin on her return.

Miss Pat Buckland, who returned to Canada recently following a seven months holiday in Europe, has returned to Kelowna to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Buckland.

Newcomers to Kelowna are Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Stephens and family who have taken up residence on Lawrence Avenue. Mr. Stephens is Kelowna's new town planner.

Wayne Gundrum and Kenneth Ross returned home this week after touring Europe for the past eight months. Sailing from Montreal in October, they landed at Liverpool and after touring eight countries in Europe and Africa returned to the British Isles where, after a short tour, they worked for two months. En route home they spent a week in Montreal and visited Expo 67. Wayne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gundrum of Kelowna, and Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ross of Kelowna.

Spending the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lawrence on St. Andrews Drive was Mrs. Lawrence's mother, Mrs. L. J. Mowat from Vancouver.

Mrs. Jack Snowsell, Mrs. Vern Sauer, Mrs. Ernest Benzer and Mrs. William Horoff were co-hostesses at an evening miscellaneous shower held recently at the home of Mrs. Snowsell in Glenmore in honor of Miss Shirley Hume, whose marriage to William Cripps will take place on June 24. The many lovely gifts were presented ed in a prettily decorated box, and after they had been opened by the bride-elect, assisted by Mrs. Edward Tarasewich, coffee and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Van Der Vliet returned to their home in Imperial Apartments on Monday after spending the winter months in Vancouver and Victoria.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

'Day Of Recognition' At George Pringle

WESTBANK—Vice-principal William Workman presided over awards day ceremonies at George Pringle Secondary school June 16 on behalf of principal P. K. Zubick, who was unavoidably absent. However, Mr. Zubick sent a message to his students reminding them that this was a day of recognition, of attaining a definite purpose, and hoped that they, as exemplary human beings, would continue to lead normal Canadian lives.

Mr. Workman added his tribute and wished the graduates well in future endeavors. To those students who will be back when school resumes in September, he told them that there would be staff changes as follows: Bertin Plourde is leaving B.C. for Oregon, while A. G. Davy plans a round-the-world trip. Mrs. Lillian Bailey does not plan to teach next year, and Douglas Oke will continue as teacher of music in Kelowna.

Mr. Zubick, after six years at George Pringle, the first as vice-principal, and then as principal, is taking over the principalship of Quesnel high school. Mel Barwick of Kelowna, will take Mr. Zubick's place at George Pringle.

Victor Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griffin, Westbank, and a Grade 11 student, was the recipient of six top awards at the awards day, Friday, while his brother, Sidney, a Grade 12 student, was the winner of four.

Top scholar in the school, Victor was presented with Westbank Chamber of Commerce award by chamber president E. F. M. Hill, while the staff award in English also went to Victor, whose average mark throughout the year in that subject was 87 1/2 per cent. Staff member Mrs. C. R. Cameron made the presentation.

Victor was also awarded the C. R. Cameron mathematics award for Grade 11; others receiving similar awards for their grades being: Virginia Martens, Grade 9, and Sidney Griffin, Grade 12. Donor, Mr. Cameron, presented the awards. The Mathematics Association of America award for the top student, also went to Victor, being presented by Philip Wakefield, as did the French Consulate award, presented by French teacher, Bertin Plourde. Top student, Grade 11 award, also went to Victor and was presented by vice-principal William Workman on behalf of principal P. K. Zubick, unavoidably absent. Students receiving similar awards in their grades were: Colin Reece, Grade 8; Virginia Martens, Grade 9; Bill Hamilton, Grade 10 and Sidney Griffin, Grade 12.

Besides those already mentioned, Sidney Griffin was awarded the Westbank Credit Union Science award, by V. E. Norman, and the Gorman Bros. Ltd. scholarship by Ross Gorman. Other academic awards made Friday included the P. K. Zubick award in English, presented to Shirley Griffin, Sidney's twin, by Mrs. G. H. Tozer, on behalf of Mr. Zubick.

Lakeview Heights Women's Institute award in home economics was presented to Karen Truitt by WI president, Mrs. Roy Sandberg; while the Westbank Women's Institute history award, won by Helga Geisler, was presented by WWI president Mrs. Ed Gaskell.

Westbank Fall Fair award for home economics was presented to Esther Gorman by fair board chairman John Seltenrich, and Peter Murray, winner of Westbank Community Club I.A. award, was presented with that award by club president Gordon Griffin. Colin Reece was awarded a certificate in Grade 8 mathematics by Mr. Wakefield, and E. Reichert presented the mathematics award from

High Quality Of Exhibits Noted At Peachland Show

PEACHLAND — Mrs. Domi, president of the Peachland Women's Institute, thanked all exhibitors and visitors in her opening address at the institute's annual flower show June 16 in the Athletic Hall. Judge of the flower show was A. M. Thompson from Westbank who congratulated exhibitors on the quality of their entries and gave a few tips on how to prepare exhibits.

Reeve Harold Thwaite then declared the show open and paid tribute to the institute for all the service rendered to the community for more than 50 years. The hall was colorful and flowers an impressive array of paintings by local artists adorned the walls.

Lions Charter Ceremony Launches Westbank Club

Lions International District Governor, Robert Neil of the Vernon Lions Club, presented the Westbank Lions Club with its charter June 17, at a ceremony in the Westbank Community Hall.

First president of the new club, Carl Purdy, received the charter at a special inauguration dinner meeting.

"This extension of the Lions' ever-growing movement, which has more than 821,000 members in 21,000 clubs in 137 countries is a living example of men of goodwill joining together in service to a world community," stated Past District Governor Richard "Dick" Greenville, who came from Prescott, Wash. to follow the presentation as special guest speaker.

He was introduced by Past District Governor of District 19D, John Trent of Vernon. Dudley Pritchard, a new Westbank Lion moved the vote of thanks to Mr. Greenville.

The evening ceremony was "the culmination of real operation from area clubs," stated Zone Chairman 19-D1, Douglas Sutherland, who was the presiding chairman responsible for the birth of the Westbank extension. He thanked the many visiting Lions attending from Salmon Arm, Lumby, Merritt, Enderby, Revelstoke, Kelowna and Rutland, who answered the role call taken by the multiple district secretary from Bellingham, Wash., Gordon Smith.

H. V. Curtis, president of Kelowna Lions, gave an address of welcome. An invocation was given by Kiwanian Rev. Norman Tanner of Westbank. Proposing toasts to the Queen and president of the U.S.A., was William Newman of the Rutland Lions.

Officers and directors installed in the Westbank club were: president, Carl Purdy; first vice-president, Jack Scott; second vice-president, Robin Drought; secretary, Harry Welsh; treasurer, William Erdman; Lion tamer, Jeff Swift; Tall Twister, Jack Shortreed; directors, Allan Blisland, Vern Norman, Kazui Taneda and Bud Truswell. Bud Truswell introduced The Century Singers as entertainment. The group of men and women chorists were directed by Mrs. Carl Purdy. Millard Foster was accompanist and a guest solo was sung by Mrs. Ken Harding. Dancing followed the dinner meeting.

Snags Reported In Water Pumps

PEACHLAND — The council heard a report on the "unsatisfactory performance" of the automatic controls of the domestic water system by Councillor E. Beet. He explained how many firms and individuals have worked on this to try and find the solution but up to now none of these theories have worked.

The latest report from a local engineering firm was discussed but water bailiff George Smith who was also present stated that these recommendations by council unless a storage tank is installed at the highest elevation, to eliminate steady pumping.

Other local firms have been working on this problem, and council decided after much discussion to have them work on their solutions before any other decisions. Owing to this problem, and not because of any shortage of water Councillor Beet suggested that sprinkling regulations be imposed on householders in the domestic water area.

Councillors passed the motion

Is it that nagging backache again?

If it's backache that's bothering you, it could be due to urinary irritation and bladder discomfort. If so, DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS can help bring you relief. DODD'S PILLS stimulate the kidneys to help relieve the condition causing the backache. Then you feel better and rest better. You can depend on DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS. New large size saves money.

Winner of the door prize, which was a fitting one for a flower show being a large box of plant food, was Mrs. Roland Kraft.

Rutland AOTS Visit Beaver Lake

RUTLAND — The Rutland AOTS men's club held an enjoyable outing on Friday and Saturday last at Beaver Lake. The members had the use of a cabin occupied by the president of the club, C. E. Nichols of Benoulin and another adjoining cabin and spent most of their time fishing and rowing on the lake.

The weather was ideal for the occasion. This event is the wind-up item of the activities of the club until their regular meetings resume in the fall, although there are some plans mooted for a day at the beach in July for the boys of the Sunday school, to be sponsored by the AOTS.

Introducing the Body Builder

It's Sure To Be 'Best Yet'

George Pringle annual awards were made to Yvonne Charest, Teruni Hani and Gerald Kuch for their contributions to the task of compiling and getting out the school's current 'annual'—which all concerned feel sure will be the best yet.

Recipients of Red Cross awards, chosen by Red Cross members were awarded on their behalf by Mrs. Lillian Bailey, to Esther Gorman and Donna Lingor, after which student council president Sheri Wilg administered the oath of office to incoming president Peter Murray. Sheri then presented cheques on behalf of the student council, to each of the three centennial committees in the area; Mrs. J. N. Basham receiving one on behalf of Westbank; Mrs. Sandberg on behalf of Lakeview Heights; and Ivor Jackson, on behalf of Peachland, who voiced the appreciation of the three committees in their behalf.

A special presentation was made by Jack Springer to A. G. Davy, for his efforts on the students' behalf during Mr. Davy's two years at George Pringle. In replying, Mr. Davy told the students that he would treasure this tribute from them, commended them for their athletic achievements, particularly that one of becoming junior volleyball champions in the valley, and reminded them that his greatest reward has been in the improvement shown by them in the athletic field.

ATHLETIC AWARDS

Both girls and boys athletic awards were presented by Mrs. Bert Segusa and A. G. Davy, as follows: Junior girls, Connie Currie, Cathy Guidi, Shirley Wayne, Donna Lingor, Jennifer Beet, Debra Stuart, Muriel Neale, Marie Furnby, Louise McNeill, Teruni Hani, and Yvonne Small. Dolores Wilberg, Connie Currie and Cathy Guidi.

Junior volleyball awards: Connie Currie, Cathy Guidi, Darcy Hrischuk and Yolande Huitema; and senior awards to, Sheri Wilg, Helga Geisler, Connie Currie, Cathy Guidi, Muriel Neale and Yvonne Small.

Junior basketball awards: Louise McNeill, Connie Currie, Cathy Guidi, Darcy Hrischuk, Debby Stuart; and senior basketball awards to: Helga Geisler, Dolores Wilberg and Glenda Lingor. Junior track: Muriel Neale and Jennifer Beet, and senior, Yolande Huitema.

Athletic awards made to the boys were: Junior soccer, Blaine Manderson, Jack Springer, Ken Charlish, Peter Brown and Larry McKenzie, while Robert Wolleswinkel received a senior award.

Named top athletes among the girls were Connie Currie and Muriel Neale.

Junior volleyball winners were: Joe Rush, Blaine Manderson, Jack Springer, Ken Charlish and Norm Spohu. Walter Sherstobloff was the senior award winner.

Bob Shortreed received an award in junior basketball and senior track winners were: Robert Wolleswinkel and Peter Murray.

Top athlete in the school was Peter Murray, with Jack Springer and Blaine Manderson as runners-up among the boys. who are never heard from again.

"I'm scared," said one man obviously reluctant to talk. "I leave my family in Haiti."

"Someone could come during the night, they disappear. I am scared."

"You overheard somebody say he don't like the government, you tell the government," said another Haitian in heavily accented English. "they like to ear, they give you money, maybe even a car."

"You don't see that fellow again. But you be careful what you say."

For these reasons, the priest said, Haitians have been smuggling themselves into the Bahamas since President Duvalier came to power in 1957. The influx was small at first, several hundred a year, but the Bahamian economy, flimsy at best, absorbed them into unskilled jobs—primarily gardeners and construction laborers.

A senator, Dr. Doris Johnson, who has formed a committee to help Haitians who are here, said she understands from official sources that there are 20,000 to 30,000 Haitians in this island nation of 185,000 persons.

She did not indicate how many are legally on visas and passports and the "work permit" any non-Bahamian needs to work in the Bahamas.

Work permits have been issued in the past whenever an employer can show he tried unsuccessfully to find a Bahamian employee. Last week, however, the government ordered that no more new work permits would be issued to Haitians.

The priest said most immigrants who came by boat were charged up to $100 a head by the boat captains. They got the money, he said, by selling their land in Haiti, borrowing from relatives, or borrowing from money lenders at exorbitant rates. Boats stopped offshore to avoid police and the immigrants had to founder to land as best they could.

New Uses For Canadian Aid To Ceylon Debated In Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Talks between Prime Minister Pearson and visiting Prime Minister Senanayake of Ceylon Tuesday dealt with possible new uses of Canadian aid in Ceylon and avoided the wars in Southeast Asia and the Middle East.

At a news conference afterwards, Mr. Senanayake said the wars were of "some concern" to his country but there had not been time to discuss them.

A majority of Ceylon's population is Buddhist and sympathetic to the Buddhists in Vietnam, he said. As a developing country, Ceylon was aware that escalation of the war will put an end to all Vietnamese development.

"Ceylon would like to see an end to this war," but efforts by his country to end it have gained no positive results. His country would support any UN measure aimed at bringing settlement in the Middle East. The Arab countries were an important market for tea, Ceylon's chief export.

FACE TOUGH COMPETITION

Mr. Senanayake said action was necessary in his country to establish a stronger economic base in manufactured goods. As a producer of primary goods, such as tea and rubber, the country was in "unfortunate" international trade circumstances because of increasing competition from other developing countries.

Through World Bank operations, Canadian aid to Ceylon doubled in 1965-66 to $4,500,000 from $2,000,000.

TEA PRICES HURT

Lower world tea prices are hurting the Ceylonese economy, he said. The lower prices resulted from the opening of new tea-producing areas in Eastern Africa.

Beat Poverty, Says Reuther

MONTREAL (CP) — Walter Reuther, international president of the United Auto Workers, Monday called on the nations of the world "to use the ability of the 20th century not to wage war, but to conquer poverty, hunger, ignorance and disease."

Speaking to about 250 Quebec members of the UAW and other officials of the labor movement in the province, Mr. Reuther said:

"For the first time in the history of the human family, technological know-how makes it possible for mankind to satisfy his basic needs."

The technological revolution had to be given a moral purpose and "that must be done by the labor movement."

The world was spending billions of dollars on armaments but "somehow we've got to find a way to turn the corner from nuclear disaster" so that the war against human privation could be won.

"In the U.S., we're spending $5,000,000,000 a year to put a man on the moon. We in the labor movement believe we should be spending that money to put man on his feet."

Earlier Monday, Mr. Reuther addressed some 700 workers from among the Northern Electric Company's 2,700 office personnel who went on strike May 28.

He offered the employees, now represented by an independent employee association, "practical economic support" if they agree to affiliate with the UAW.

Everybody Humbles The Mets Including Phils' Larry Jackson

Larry Jackson has tossed another curve at the law of averages—and New York Mets are still waiting for it to break their way.

Jackson, Philadelphia's 36-year-old Met killer, borrowed a pitch from team-mate Jim Bunning Tuesday night and beat New York for the 18th time without a loss, firing the second one-hitter of his career as the Phillies breezed to a 4-0 victory.

Jackson's 18-0 record against the Mets is second only to San Francisco's Juan Marichal, who has beaten the expansion club 19 times without a setback.

Marichal, meanwhile, became the first 10-game winner in the majors by overwhelming Cincinnati's slumping Reds 5-1 on a five-hitter.

Elsewhere, Chicago Cubs unseeded Pittsburgh Pirates 5-3; St. Louis Cardinals whipped Houston Astros 6-2 and Los Angeles Dodgers nipped Atlanta Braves 3-2 in 15 innings.

Tommy Davis' second inning double—which barely eluded right fielder Johnny Callison's leaping grasp—was the only hit off Jackson.

... winner

He attributed his one-hitter to a new curve ball he picked up from Bunning.

"I've changed my grip," Jackson said. "I'm choking up on the ball and holding it like

... loser

Bunning does: "Now I wish I'd started throwing it 10 years ago."

The Phillies gave him a quick sendoff with three runs in the first inning on Tony Taylor's single, Rich Allen's triple and Don Lock's sixth homer.

Marichal, who missed his last turn because of a pinched nerve in his neck, was clipped for two hits and a run in the first inning but stymied the Reds thereafter while boosting his record to 10-5.

The Giants roughed up Mel Queen, 8-2, for two runs in the second and knocked him out in a two-run sixth.

Ron Santo and Ted Savage paced Chicago's 14-hit attack with three hits apiece, Santo driving in two runs.

ROOKIE SAVES GAME

Rookie Chuck Hartenstein rescued Pirates starter Joe Nickro after Donn Clendenon's three-run homer in the fifth.

Dal Maxvill drilled a tie-breaking triple in the seventh inning and Orlando Cepeda cracked a three-run homer in the eighth as the Cardinals pulled away from the Astros.

Mounties Sweep Twin Bill Move Closer To First Place

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Tacoma and Seattle are still tied for the lead in the Pacific Coast League's western division, but their losses, combined with the Vancouver Mounties' sweep of a double bill from Portland Beavers, 6-3 and 3-2 Tuesday night, put the Mounties within a half game of the division lead.

Portland took a 2-0 third-inning lead in the opener at Vancouver, but the Mounties moved ahead 5-2 in the fifth and never looked back. A fourth-inning error by Portland's Vern Fuller gave the Mounties the nightcap. The teams were tied 2-2 going into the bottom of the fourth when Fuller missed an easy grounder.

Monty Montague shackled Tacoma Cubs on two hits as the Indianapolis Indians romped to a 4-1 victory at Indianapolis while the San Diego Padres erupted with seven runs on their home field to wallop the Seattle Angels 13-4.

Chico Fernandez led the Indianapolis attack on Tacoma by knocking in three runs on a double and a triple.

Jim Gentile and Jim Schaeffer banged two homers each to spark San Diego's win over Seattle. Gentile batted in five runs and moved into the league lead in home runs with 15.

Tulsa southpaw Dick Lemay earned his fifth win of the season against eight losses by holding the host Oklahoma City 89-ers to seven hits, a home run and a double in five innings.

The Oilers grabbed all five runs in the first five frames.

Phoenix Giants and Denver Bears traded the lead twice at Phoenix before the Giants took command in the sixth with two runs on a single by Bobby Etherbridge, a double by Jim McKnight and a single by Don Bryant.

Jim Hannan pitched shutout ball to lead the Hawaiian Islanders to a 4-0 victory over the Spokane Indians at Honolulu.

It's All Been Settled — At Least For Now

CLEVELAND (AP)—There's peace again—at least temporarily—on the pro golf tour.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Bill Casper and Co. will play in the Professional Golfers Association championship at Denver, Colo., next month, and the nations' top pros will play against Britain in the Ryder Cup matches at Houston in October.

It appeared certain that the top touring pros were going on with their determination to form a maverick tour when Max Elbin of Washington, the PGA president, got the players, tournament committee into a private session just before midnight and hammered out these points of agreement:

1. The tour will be under the
2. The television program will be run by the tournament committee and not PGA headquarters, with Marty Carmichael in charge.
3. The current seven-man tournament committee, consisting of the four player representatives and the top three PGA officials, will be supplemented by a fourth PGA representative. In case of a voting deadlock, the issue will be referred to a three-man board from the advisory committee.
4. The PGA will obtain its powerful right of veto on policy decisions.

Surprising Red Sox Clobber Yanks

Joe Foy, unnerved by a near shattering experience two days ago, has pulled himself together in time to take apart New York Yankees.

Foy arrived in New York in time to lead his parents from their burning house Sunday night, but playing the hero left him plenty shaken up.

"I had so much on my mind, it's a good thing we were rained out Monday night," said the Boston Red Sox third baseman. But by Tuesday night, Foy recovered enough to step into the hero's role again at Yankee Stadium where his grand slam home run helped shatter New York Yankees 7-1.

In the only other American League games scheduled, Washington Senators splintered Chicago White Sox 4-2. Detroit Tigers nipped California angels 2-1 and Cleveland Indians topped Kansas City Athletics 5-3.

Foy unloaded against Mel Stottlemyre in the fifth inning after two walks and a hit loaded the bases.

The blast, his second major league slam, gave him five homers and 14 runs batted in since he was benched for two days June 6.

Carl Yastrzemski made the fifth a five-run inning with his 17th homer following Foy. Gary Bell, 1-4 before Cleveland traded him to Boston June 4, breezed to his third victory in four decisions with the Red Sox.

The Senators took advantage of some rare misdeeds by the league—leading White Sox for their victory. Leading 2-1 in the sixth inning, Mike Epstein tried to score from second base on Paul Casanova's single to centre, but Tommy Agee threw him out. However, the umpires ruled third baseman Don Buford obstructed Epstein and the run was allowed.

The Senators got another gift run in the seventh when Ed Stroud was hit by a pitch, went all the way to third on a wild pitch and scored on an error. Detroit had to come from behind in the eighth inning. Al Kaline doubled in Don Wert, who had been hit by a pitch, and then Jim Northrup's single scored Kaline.

Luis Tiant of Cleveland hit a solo homer and hurled a two-hitter for eight innings, but needed hitting and pitching help. Lee Maye also homered. Maye singled in a run and Pedro Gonzales hit two sacrifice flies. Steve Bailey struck out the last two batters in the ninth after KC scored twice.

Kinsmen Whomp Black Knight In Little League Playoffs

Kinsmen moved into the Little League quarter-finals with a 20-1 lacing of Black Knight Tuesday evening at Recreation Park.

Kinsmen finished second in the league standings and Black Knight sixth.

The ball game was not nearly as lopsided as the score indicates. A control problem of Black Knight starter Doug Abrams caused him much grief and his successor Jan Larson got absolutely no support from him infield. Harmless, slowly hit ground balls were booted or trickled into the outfield.

The Kinsmen 14-hit attack was led by centre fielder Gerry Gray and Brian Brooks. Both players had three hits. Gray drove in five runs and Brooks three. Billy Gerk had three safeties also and drove in one run.

and drove home two runs. Abrams, in 1½ innings, was charged with seven runs on only four hits. But he walked six men and all but one scored.

Jan Larson went the rest of the way and gave up the last 12 runs. He was touched for 12 hits and walked five men. He fanned one.

For Black Knight, the three hits were divided by three players — Bruce Greenwood, John Doyle and Brad Corle.

Brian Brooks worked the first three innings for Kinsmen and gave up all three hits and a run. He struck out five and walked one.

Lee Waters pitched the final three innings. He fanned four and walked three but didn't allow a hit or a run.

SPORTING VIEWS

By RICHARD VIVONE

AN OLD ENGLISH LITERATURE PROF now academically deceased once told a class of eager, but naive, freshmen students that "he couldn't fight city hall." But he did add out of the corner of his mouth that "there was no harm in trying".

In all due respect to the humble human, one not so eager, not so naive college graduate discovered he could get hurt trying to buck the chosen few. So, as the Eskimos say, he's out in the cold.

It is extremely doubtful if Joe Kapp will get another job in Canadian football in spite of the fact he's one of the masters of his trade—running a football team. As a result of his misadventures, Joe will spend a quiet, huddle-less summer devoid of barking signals, snarling coaches and jail-prone line-men.

To cap briefly, Long Bomb Joe was suspended from the Lions for signing a contract with another football club while under legal obligation to play for the Vancouver club. For that little deed, he was suspended from pro ball without pay. But he thought he could still hold an axe over the Lions' head because they didn't have a proven quarterback.

Ah ha! He calculated wrong. The Montreal Alouettes said it just so happens we have a guy to get rid of. Do you want him—have you got a nobody to give us in return?

That's what happened to Joe. He tried to enhance his bargaining power by playing both ends against the middle. The result is nothing for Joe Kapp. He has no job, no money and no future in Vancouver or Canada.

But one should cast wary eyes on what the elite did. Notice how convenient it was to have Bernie accept Lions terms. Remember Montreal had to offer him half of Expo to get him out of Hamilton. There's no Expo in Vancouver.

Observe the timing of the Lions' stand. How often is a proven pro-calibre quarterback on the market—I mean quarterbacks, not Eagle Day. And when was the last time anyone traded one, solitary lineman for a leader?

It doesn't say much for the position of the player in pro football. No wonder the cry of "slave, serf and feudalism" is ringing throughout the sport capitals of the world.

And I wonder if Kapp can collect unemployment insurance?

FOR ONCE IN MY BRIEF LIFE, I was elated there were not too many fans at a ball game. I was happy knowing the tremendous number of ball fans that didn't witness the bush league ball at Elks' Stadium Saturday.

I was happy that they didn't see a fella go home when he discovered he wasn't in the starting lineup. I was happy they didn't see almost every player leave the stadium as soon as he was replaced in the game.

I was happy they couldn't see the Labatts' dugout when the game was over because there was no one in it. The last batter was the last Labatt player to leave the field—and one of the small number that waited until the last man was out before leaving.

I wasn't happy that myself and my extremely attractive assistant were the last to leave the park mostly because nobody else stayed to the end. The ball was so bad even the players couldn't stand it.

I think, maybe, I now know why there are 200 kids in Little League and 15 in senior Babe Ruth. But the reason is not a nice one.

Some cities term it "bush league". I'd say it was more, a burned out forest.

MY FILLER finally arrived. Like I wrote a while back, Robin Roberts has gone home. He says he is in shape and read to listen to offers.

Sure he is.

He won't play minor league ball any more—he says. About 20 major league ball clubs won't disagree but they won't hire him either. Recently, the one-time Cincinnati ace Joey Jay was released by Portsmouth of the Class A league. But Joe is smart enough to go home. He knows the big guys are finished for the year and have set ball clubs.

Bill Monbouquette knows too but he was lucky.

So Robin is at home. But there were no press conferences. And we have no room for fillers today. Maybe tomorrow, baby.

LITTLE LEAGUE PLAYOFFS are in full gear now. The youngsters put on a fine show. They play hard, win well and lose like men—like most men, anyway.

But there is a crew of hard working men behind the scenes in this outfit. Many of the coaches lead their clubs one night and come back to umpire the next. And some of the mothers spend endless hours marking scorebooks. And then there are guys like Gordie Smith who go down an hour before game time and rake the field so it is in excellent playing condition. I hope the players appreciate the efforts of all these workers.

Kapp Launches Legal Action

VANCOUVER (CP) — B.C. Lions quarterback Joe Kapp Tuesday launched a Supreme Court action asking $17,501 damages against the Canadian Football League club and an order that his June 9 suspension be lifted.

The writ asks damages for alleged breach of contract, removal of the suspension and an injunction to force the club to retract its request to have the CFL commissioner place Kapp's name on the suspension list.

The case is scheduled Friday in Supreme Court chambers. Kapp also asked for an injunction to stop the club from imposing another suspension until after trial of his action.

He asked a court declaration that all contracts between himself and the B.C. Lions have been discharged and that he is free to enter contracts with other clubs.

The football club announced June 9 that Kapp was suspended for breach of contract arising out of his negotiations with the Houston Oilers of the American Football League while still under contract with Lions.

Clay Convicted But Appeal Ready

HOUSTON (AP) — Lawyers for heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay had an appeal motion ready today in the boxer's conviction on criminal charges of refusing induction for military service. They predicted eventual victory and said that jail is 18 months away at worst.

It took one day of testimony and motions and 21 minutes of jury deliberation for the verdict Tuesday. U.S. District Judge Joe Ingraham imposed the maximum sentence—five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Clay said he had expected the worst, but he and his lawyers appeared shaken by the quickness of it all.

He walked from the courtroom free under the same $5,000 bond posted after his indictment in May for refusing to take the one step forward into the army with other draftees.

SHATTERS IMAGE In two court rulings Ingraham had destroyed the intended defence: that Clay, as a Negro, is discriminated against by the racial composition of draft boards; and that Clay, as Muhammad Ali, travelling bishop for the Black Muslims, is entitled to ministerial exemption from military duty.

Chief defence lawyer Hayden Covington of New York, said he saw a "better than even chance" for reversal of the conviction.

The appeal initiated today will be argued before the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans. Covington estimated it would be December or January before the panel could hear the case.

Covington said a decision would not be forthcoming from the Appellate Court until sometime next spring, and if the decision is against Clay the case would go to the Supreme Court three months later. He said the high court's decision, if it agreed to hear the case, could not be expected before late in 1968.

Covington said before the legal battles began that Clay never would spend a night in jail. He repeated that opinion after the verdict, saying, "He hasn't yet."

In undermining first one and

CASSIUS CLAY ... five years?

then the other of Clay's two main defence points, Ingraham left Covington and co-counsel Quinlan Hodges of Houston the argument before the jury of six men and six women that Clay was "sincere in refusing to be drafted."

First the judge held that the defence allegation of draft board discrimination would be an inadmissible conclusion in Clay's trial. Then, answering a lengthy plea for directed verdict of acquittal, he told Clay and his lawyers—with the jury out of hearing—that he had found a basis for the selective service's action in classifying the 25-year-old fighter 1-A, ripe for the draft.

Most of the courtroom talk was devoted to the defence plea for directed acquittal. Hodges told the judge, "There is no doubt that he gave up universal popularity in this country" by joining the Muslim sect.

Hodges said Clay's religion had cost him, aside from popularity, his marriage to a "beautiful wife" who refused to submit to Muslim standards of dress and conduct, a $500,000 movie contract because the subject of the picture conflicted with his religion, a $200,000 recording contract because the record would not place his Muslim name on the record jackets, and all chances of product endorsements.

Butterfield Has Inside Track For Job As AHL President

SOUTH EDGEMONT, Mass. (AP)—Jack Butterfield, general manager of Springfield Indians, was expected to be named today president of the American Hockey League.

Butterfield, who has been serving as interim president, was reported the top choice of the AHL board of governors at the league's annual meeting.

The AHL moved closer to a planned merger with the Western League Tuesday by adopting a player pension plan similar to one already in effect in the WHL. The plan will be contributory on the part of players and club owners.

The owners also indicated they expect little trouble in clearing another merger hurdle, obtaining indemnity for the Pittsburgh territory lost in expansion of the National Hockey League.

A spokesman said that since the Western League solved its indemnity problem with the Los Angeles Kings and the NHL last week "we feel it only follows that the AHL and NHL can negotiate successfully on the same level."

The governors also approved the purchase of Quebec Aces by the Philadelphia Flyers, a new NHL expansion entry, and Bill Putnam was seated on the board as a new club representative.

Five In Fifth Enough To Win

Kinsmen edged CKOV 8-5 in a Babe Ruth Baseball League game played at Recreation Park Tuesday.

Reg Rantucci went all the way for the winners. Doug Gerow took the loss. CKOV led 3-0 until the fifth when Kinsmen opened up and scored five times. They clung to the lead for the victory.

Erad Fenton had three hits for Kinsmen—all singles. Gary Welder had a double and single for CKOV.

Next scheduled game is today at 6:30 p.m. when Lions meet CKOV at Elks' Stadium.

Americans Shut Out

LONDON (AP)—For the first time in many years, no Americans were named to the seeded list of the men's singles of the Wimbledon tennis championship starting next Monday.

Manuel Santana of Spain and Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., the reigning champions, headed the seedings announced Tuesday.

Australia's Roy Emerson, the 1964 and 1965 champion, was seeded second followed by Davis Cup teammates John Newcombe and Tony Roche.

Opening lead — seven of hearts.

It stands to reason that the more mistakes your opponents make, the better off you will be, and it also follows that the more opportunities you give the opponents to make a mistake, the more often they will be kind enough to oblige.

However, there are also hands in which you may unwittingly trap yourself into making a mistake, and, since there can be no advantage to falling into a trap of your own creation, you should naturally make every effort possible to avoid becoming your own victim. Here is a typical case. Let's say you're in three notrump and West leads a heart. You duck twice and win the third round with the ace as East discards a low spade.

When you now lead the king of clubs, it turns out that East has the ace. But when he then returns a spade, you are faced with the critical choice of trying for your ninth trick by either taking a spade finesse or by going up with the ace and playing for the diamonds to be divided 3-3.

If you are familiar with probabilities, you will take the finesse and wind up going down two. You reason that there is roughly a 50% chance of winning the finesse, but only about a 36% chance of finding a 3-3 diamond division.

As the cards lie, you could have made the contract by playing for the diamonds to be evenly divided, but you cannot really be faulted for having made the correct percentage play.

However, your method of play earlier is much easier to fault. What you should have done was lead the K-Q and another diamond before playing the king of clubs. Had you done this, you would have made the contract easily. You would learn that the diamonds are divided 3-3, and would run like a bunny with nine tricks when East took the ace of clubs and returned a spade.

OFFICE HOURS

"Improving your work might be an easier way to keep from being thrown out of the boss's office so often."

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Put some sparkle into this day. Give others (and yourself) a new lift, incentive. Don't rest on yesterday's laurels; go for more—but soundly. The evening hours could bring some unusual surprises—possibly in the field of romance.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that as of the 1st of this month, you entered an excellent period where finances are concerned—one which will last until the end of December. Another good trend, along fiscal lines, will begin during the first week in March and continue for four months. In the meantime, however, it would be well to remember: Avoid extravagance in August; don't speculate in November and December; Consolidate all gains made during 1967 between January 1st and the end of February. Best periods for job recognition and advancement: September, November, December and next March.

The period between now and late September (also late October and next April) will be highly propitious for romance and there is the possibility of sudden marriage during any one of these periods. Good opportunities for travel and stimulating social activities are star-promised during the next three months; also in January and April of next year. Your domestic concerns should run smoothly for most of the year ahead, but do try to avoid friction in close circles during the early part of November.

A child born on this day will be highly intelligent, versatile and magnetic of personality.

TRY TO STOP ME

By Bennett Cerf

RUDI GERNREICH, the eminent designer, rues the day he dreamed up the topless bathing suit. "I think any woman who appears in a public place in one of those things is vulgar," he asserts. "When I predicted that the trend toward nudity in swim suits was escalating, a magazine editor asked me to design a suit completely topless as a gimmick. The last thing that occurred to me was that anyone actually would wear one, and I was speechless when the orders began rolling in."

The head of the English department at a certain large midwestern state university had been very sarcastic and belittling about colleagues who had "cheapered themselves by appearing on TV." When he was invited to appear as a guest on a panel show himself, however, his attitude changed immediately. In fact, the moment he reached the last sentence of the letter of invitation, which read, "The fee will be one hundred dollars," he dashed off his note of acceptance, concluding, "I am happy to enclose my check for one hundred dollars herewith!"

Judge: Why did you beat up your wife?
Prisoner: It was a sudden impulse.
Judge: Right! And so, on a sudden impulse, I'm giving you thirty days in jail.
Prisoner: Okay. But you're sure ruining our honeymoon.

5. In Memoriam

REITH — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Albert Reith, who passed away June 21, 1963.

"His cheery ways and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day, we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land
Never to part again."

—From his wife Lily, Pamela, Gordon, Mary, Ernest and Darren. 271

BRANCHFLOWER — In loving memory of a dear husband, Norman Branchflower, who passed away June 21, 1966.

"I have only your memory, dear husband,
To remember my whole life through,
But the sweetness lingers forever
As I treasure the image of you."
—Sadly missed by your loving wife Bessie. 271
